

TRIBUTE TO THE U.S. MERCHANT
MARINES

HON. MICHAEL F. DOYLE

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 18, 1999

Mr. DOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to give tribute to U.S. Merchant Marines and extend my gratitude for their valiant service to our country during World War II. As my colleagues should be aware, May 22nd is National Maritime Day.

In years past, I have come before the House to explain in detail how the thousands of courageous men and women who served in the Merchant Marines transported supplies to our soldiers during war and in the face of grave danger. Undeniably, the actions taken and responsibilities fulfilled by these men and women who served in the Merchant Marines contributed to the outcome of World War II. As the Pittsburgh areas was one of the most heavily recruited regions of the country by the Merchant Marines, I have come to have an enormous appreciation for and ever growing amount of respect for the contributions that merchant mariners have made to our nation.

Indeed, their efforts should not be diminished in any way and should be equated with those of other armed service personnel. It is important to note that during World War II, Merchant Marines were subject to government control and their vessels were controlled by the government under the Authority of the War Shipping Administration. And just as with other branches of the military, Merchant Marines traveled under sealed orders and were subject to the Code of Military Justice. Like many Members of Congress, I felt it was completely unacceptable that Merchant Marines were discriminated against in terms of benefits and lent my strong support to H.R. 1126, the Merchant Marine Fairness Act. The bill, H.R. 1126, was ultimately enacted into law as part of H.R. 4110, the Veterans Programs Enhancement Act.

While I am pleased that the Merchant Marine Fairness Act has been signed into law, I was not pleased that the language of an important provision has been altered. Specifically, the Merchant Marine Fairness Act included directive language according to the recognition of Honorable Discharge to merchant mariners whose service included time between August 15, 1945 to the end of 1946. The language however, was changed to read "Certificate of Honorable Discharge" when the original bill was included in H.R. 4110, and was enacted as part of Public Law 105-368.

As it has been more than half a century since the end of World War II and almost 20 years since the struggle for equitable recognition of merchant mariners began, I am deeply concerned about the potential for the intent of the original language to be misconstrued and thus creating further delay in the delivery of earned benefits. I urge both Secretary of Defense Cohen and Secretary of Transportation Slater to expeditiously and consistently implement the new benefits provisions in accordance to the intent of the original bill's language. Approximately 2,500 mariners and their families are expecting and should receive no less.

I also want to recognize the efforts of one of my constituents, Mark Gleeson, for this personal involvement in, and steadfast commitment to obtaining appropriate recognition for the efforts of Merchant Marines during World War II. Mark cares very deeply about this matter and played a major role in creating greater awareness about the inequitable treatment of Merchant Marines within the halls of Congress.

In closing, I want to thank all of my colleagues who were supportive of the effort embodied in the Merchant Marines Fairness Act and encourage them to monitor its implementation. It is my hope that each and every Member of the House will take the time to recognize the efforts of our country's World War II Merchant Marines.

Mrs. CLAYTON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to offer my congratulations to President Lee Teng-hui of the Republic of China on Taiwan, as Taiwan celebrates the third anniversary of his presence in office on May 20, 1999.

Mr. Speaker, under President Lee's leadership Taiwan is a world-class nation and its citizens enjoy one of the highest standards of living in the world.

As Chinese mainland students continue to demonstrate against the United States, let's not forget our friends on Taiwan who have been our ally and partner throughout their history.

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ACADEMY

HON. PAUL E. GILLMOR

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. GILLMOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay special tribute to an outstanding young man from Ohio's Fifth Congressional District. I am happy to announce that Zebulon G. Wedge, of Fostoria, Ohio, has been offered an appointment to attend the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Mr. Speaker, Zeb has accepted his offer of appointment and will be attending the Air Force Academy this fall with the incoming cadet class of 2003. Attending one of our nation's military academies is an invaluable experience that offers a world-class education and demands the very best that these young men and women have to offer. Truly, it is one of the most challenging and rewarding undertakings of their lives.

Without question, Zeb brings a great deal of leadership and dedication to the incoming Air Force class of 2003. During his time at Fostoria High School, Zeb has achieved a high level of academic excellence. Currently, he has attained a grade point average of 3.75, which places him thirteenth in his class of 158 students. Academically, he was an honor roll member in each year of high school.

In addition to his stellar performance in the classroom, Zeb has shown himself to be an excellent student-athlete. He has been a member of the Fostoria High School Varsity Wrestling Team and the Varsity Football Team. In addition, Zeb has been a member of the Spanish Club, Peer-Mediation, Youth-to-Youth, and served as the Vice President of the Freshman Student Council.

Mr. Speaker, at this point, I would ask my colleagues to stand and join me in paying special tribute to Zebulon G. Wedge. Our service academies offer the finest education and military training available anywhere in the world. I am sure that Zeb will do very well during his career at the Air Force Academy, and I wish him the very best in all of his future endeavors.

TRIBUTE TO FLETCHER AND SYBIL SULLARDS

HON. MARION BERRY

OF ARKANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 18, 1999

Mr. BERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute and recognize Fletcher and Sybil Sullards on the occasion of the celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. Fletcher and Sybil are mother and father to Karen who they love dearly. The Sullards have actually parented many many children in their years as educators in the public schools in Arkansas. They are "public servants" in the true spirit of the words. I think of the Biblical meaning of servanthood when I look at the work of Fletcher and Sybil with the young people they served and the communities across this great state that they became involved.

Fletcher and Sybil came to the community I live in, Gillett, in the late 1950's. They were there only a few short years before moving on to serve larger schools and eventually made their home in Searcy, Arkansas. Their time in my community has been an example of the lasting impact for good that teachers make on children and also in setting standards of excellence for the schools they serve.

Of the many strengths of this unique couple I think first of their gift of laughter. As teachers, they dealt with a serious subject—educating children—but it was fun for them. You knew they loved what they were doing because they were and always will be happy people. In my opinion their greatest strength is in their dedication to children as individuals. This makes them truly outstanding. As educators, they knew their students, they liked their students, thus they could challenge, encourage and even reprimand their students. If it takes a village to raise a child, the Sullards are the ingredient every village needs as does every child.
